Ecoplus and Ecoplus Paperprint series

Statement Animal origin / Vegan

Ingredients of animal origin are to the best of our knowledge not part of the formulation of the Ecoplus and Ecoplus Paperprint series.

"Please note that Avery Dennison does not routinely analyze its products for the presence for each of the mentioned substances. We do not expect that these substances will be formed during manufacturing or under normal handling, storage and use conditions. Based on our knowledge of the raw materials and our manufacturing process, we do not expect the substances to be present in our products.

Furthermore, we can't guarantee zero percentage for any of the substances, due to the fact that many substances are present in nature and that many substances could become part of materials/products/articles by a lot of different causes/ways which are beyond our control. In addition, with the proceeding development of analytical tools and protocols it could be that substances which cannot be detected today could be detected tomorrow."
